RE: Recommendation for Cabibbo Inc.

Dear Gentleman / Ladies

The reason for my writing is to heartily recommend the services of Cabibbo Inc. I was introduced to John Cabibbo roughly 7 years ago by a mutual business acquaintance. I had a mission critical online database and transaction processing project needing timely and competent programming. John was my colleague's confident choice, I am so glad he connected us.

Working with Cabibbo Inc, we organized the project and quickly put together an operations specification. Even early in the project, we experienced fewer than the usual software adjustments and quickly became operational. Their ability to rapidly adjust to operational nuances and fine-tune the project to our specific needs impressed me. They were also very open to suggestions to processes they developed – a very unusual trait for software engineers from my past experience.

Another strength of John's, and a bonus to you, is his project management skills. He communicated timely and efficiently with me and other staff members over several projects. He possesses keen follow-through and stands behind his commitments.

I recommend Cabibbo Inc for any web-based project. You will find their integrity impeccable, their ethic strong, and their competency high. Feel free to contact me directly for further dialogue.

Sincerely,
